Significant Financial Interest (SFI) Disclosure Form

PHS/NIH-funded research, under the BTC Media Labs FCOI Policy (effective September 30, 2026)

This form is for Investigators on PHS/NIH grants and cooperative agreements. Awards from other funders, such as the NSF, use the disclosure process in that funder's BTC Media Labs policy.

Return the completed form to the Designated Official at contact@btcmedialabs.com. BTC Media Labs keeps this form in its own records. It is not sent to NIH.

Part 2. Before you start

Step 1: Know your Institutional Responsibilities. These are the professional activities you carry out on behalf of BTC Media Labs, as defined in its FCOI Policy: - research and research consultation, including collaboration with university and clinical partners; - design, development, testing and validation of BTC Media Labs' software products, including accessibility apps for iPhone, iPad, Apple Watch and Mac; - studies with users, including people who are Deaf or hard of hearing; - development of datasets, speech and sound-recognition models and related systems; - publication and presentation of research results; - grant writing and fundraising; - business development and partnerships; - service on committees, advisory boards or panels (such as Institutional Review Boards or Data and Safety Monitoring Boards) on behalf of BTC Media Labs.

Step 2: Disclose every SFI related to those responsibilities. This includes interests that are: - domestic or foreign (non-U.S.); - yours, your spouse's or your dependent children's; - from, or held in, entities outside BTC Media Labs.

Do not limit your disclosure to your research, or to the NIH-funded project. BTC Media Labs, not you, decides whether an interest is related to NIH-funded research and whether it is a financial conflict of interest (FCOI).

Subrecipient Investigators who follow BTC Media Labs' policy disclose the SFIs related to their organization's work for BTC Media Labs.

You do not need to disclose: - salary, royalties or other payments from BTC Media Labs while you are employed or appointed by it, including IP rights assigned to BTC Media Labs and agreements to share in royalties from those rights; - any ownership interest in BTC Media Labs, which is a for-profit organization; - income from investment vehicles, such as mutual funds and retirement accounts, whose investment decisions you do not directly control; - income from seminars, lectures or teaching, or from service on advisory committees or review panels, for U.S. bodies: a federal, state or local government agency, an institution of higher education, an academic teaching hospital, a medical center, or a research institute affiliated with a U.S. institution of higher education; - travel reimbursed or sponsored by those same U.S. bodies.

Foreign interests are never excluded. Disclose income or travel from a foreign government (national, provincial, local or equivalent) or a foreign institution of higher education when it meets a threshold below.

Definitions: - Remuneration: salary and any payment for services not otherwise identified as salary (e.g., consulting fees, honoraria, paid authorship). - Equity interest: any stock, stock option or other ownership interest, valued by public prices or other reasonable measures of fair market value. - Intellectual property rights and interests: e.g., patents and copyrights, once income is received from them (e.g., royalties, licensing fees) from anyone other than BTC Media Labs.
